Not So Good

Students,

Scholarship applications are due tomorrow. Please go to the Education Abroad website to find information about the scholarships. http://educationabroad.colostate.edu/ Applications that students have spent time on have the best chance of getting awarded. Don't wait until the last minute! There are lots of scholarships so make sure to consider which ones work for you. The application is on the myEdAbroad portal https://studioabroad.colostate.edu/csu_eid_login.cfm.

Good luck, Beth

Better

Dear Fall 2017 Education Abroad Students,

I wanted to remind you that Saturday, April 15 is the deadline to apply for scholarships through the CSU Education Abroad Common Scholarship Application, which includes Office of International Programs merit-based, needs-based, and Mona Mitchell scholarships, as well as affiliate and departmental scholarships. You can also consult the Education Abroad Scholarship Page for information about additional, external scholarships. Let me know if you have questions!!

Cheers,

Beth

Best

REMINDER: The deadline to apply for scholarships through the CSU Education Abroad Scholarship Common Application is Wednesday, October 15. See below for details.

Emergency Contact Outreach

Dear Parents, Families and Friends

We are excited that your student has chosen to participate in an Education Abroad program! Because education abroad is such an important experience in your student's life, we want to provide you with a brief overview of the education abroad process. We also encourage you to discuss specific program details with your student.

Application & Commitment

Your student applied and committed to an education abroad program. The application process consisted of a personal essay, passport verification, CSU Education/Intern Abroad Agreement and Release, and/or a recommendation letter. When committing to the program, your student also completed the CSU Contractual Commitments and CSU Financial Timeline, and Student Particioation. Waiver of Liability, Release and Hold Harmless Agreement.

Pre-departure Orientation

Travel health consultations in conjuction with a Pre-departure Guide are provided for all CSU faulty-led students. Topics include: important travel documents, in-country arrival and accomodations, more y and banking, communication, safety, international insurance, site-specific packing tips, emergency procedures, and more. We strongly encourage students to discuss this information and share the suide with their families/emergency constacts.

Health & Safety Video

Every student is required to watch the Health & Safety Video in their myEdAbroad portal

Communication

We stress the importance of students contracting home immediately upon arrival overseas. We also instruct students to establish primary means of communication with emergency contacts before departing the U.S. CSU Faculty/staff program leaders communicate the safe arrival of all students studying abroad to the CSU Office of International Programs. The Education Abroad staff uses e-mail as the principal means of communicating with students, and we emphasize that students must gare to check their CSU email accounts regularly while abroad.

International Risks

Please be assured that we would notify you immediately in the unlikely event of an emergency affecting the health safety, or security of your student abroad. To ensure that relevant safety information state to students, we are in regular communication with our colleagues overses and at other U.S. institutions. GUS international Risk Manager also monitors several security resources and emergency procedures are in glace.

International Medical and Evacuation Insurance

All participants are insured with medical and evacuation coverage including group natural disaster and security evacuation.

Meeting Follow-up
Hi Bruce, I just wanted to thank you for your time on the call today. I really appreciate all your feedback and suggestions about how I can better use email in my work with you! I'm excited to make some changes in the near future. I am sorry to send yet another email, but I wanted to follow-up with my takeaways on the topics from today's discussion. Because you shared that I could be more effective with my email voice & style, as well as my inbox management, I've included a few of my takeaways here: I will be sure to start compiling all of my requests and questions for you into a daily or weekly digest, instead of sending you so many one-off emails. I will also work diligently to strengthen my voice and tone via email, so that I can begin to take over some of the external communication needs on your behalf. Finally, I will take a class on effective inbox management so that I can become an expert in helping you keep your inbox clear and manageable from here on out. Again, thank you for your time and feedback on today's call. I really enjoy working with you and I hope I can improve on some of these skills in the next four weeks!
Please let me know if you have any other thoughts or questions.

Cancelling an Unnecessary Meeting

Since we are ahead of our deadlines, I suggest we cancel our mid-project review meeting for tomorrow. I've addressed all agenda items and you'll find the deliverables linked in our Trello board. I'll follow-up on Friday to wrap the two outstanding items, which are tagged in red. To make the most of our time, we can review the full project on our Monday call.

Hi Elliott,

I look forward to digging into the upcoming Creatives Coalition meeting! Last year's event was a resounding success, and I am confident we can make an even bigger splash this year. It will be great to work with you again.

••• İII

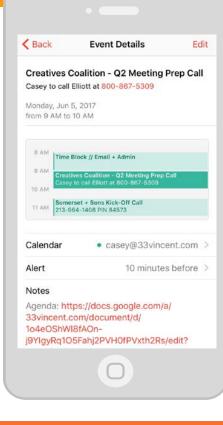

Since your scheduling link only offers 30minute meeting slots, I would like to suggest the following times for our one-hour prep call. All times CST.

Monday 6/5: 9-10 AM Tuesday 6/6: 1:30-2:30 PM Thursday 6/8: 2-3 PM

Let me know what works best with your schedule, and I'll send over a calendar hold and agenda for your review.
